Art Unit: 3682

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yoshimoto et al. US 5,692,838 in view of Mukai WO 02/12742.

Yoshimoto discloses a hydrostatic gas bearing of an orifice type comprising a gas injection port (25a, 25b), and an air groove (24) communicating with the gas injection port. A clearance (h_b) of the hydrostatic gas bearing is within the range of less than 3 μm (as seen in Figure 6), and the ratio of a depth (of 30 μm , column 7, line 4) to the clearance inherently corresponds to the claimed range of at least 5. Yoshimoto is silent as to the specific material used as a main component of the gas bearing. Mukai discloses a hydrostatic gas bearing in which the main component of the gas bearing is formed of silicon nitride or Sialon. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the gas bearing of Yoshimoto of silicon nitride or Sialon for the desired purpose of not generating rust, stability of shape, no deformation as a structure because of its light weight and high rigidity, substantially no generation of burr, and application of various working methods, as specifically taught and suggested by Mukai.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3682

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
